Asks Congress Call Ridgway on Defense Blast

Letter Rekindles
Opposition by Senate Democrats

By United Press
Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) suggested today that Congress review "our entire defense posture" in view of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's objections to administration military policy.

Jackson proposed that Ridgway be called before the Senate Armed Services Committee to explain a recent letter criticizing administration policy which Ridgway wrote Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson before retiring June 30 as Army chief of staff. Ridgway declared in the letter that military forces are "inadequate in strength and improperly proportioned."

The letter, made public Friday, tended to rekindle the opposition of Senate Democrats to the administration's policy of placing primary emphasis on airpower and ability to deliver atomic weapons and secondary emphasis on ground forces.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said Ridgway's "basic thesis is correct." He said that the composition of U. S. forces is not designed to meet dangers which now face the country.

But Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) disagreed. He said the administration policy is proving effective. "Witness the present release of tension," he said. "When we were piling up conventional weapons, we had a crisis every week."

Other congressional news:
Talbot: Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said his Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee will decide next week whether to conduct a full investigation of Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot's connection with a New York business firm — the Paul B. Mulligan Co. The decision will be made after an "informal conference" with Talbot.

Atomic Ship: President Eisenhower, in a new plea for his atomic "peace ship," told Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn.) in a letter that the reasons for such a ship "are no less compelling now" than when he first proposed it. Patterson has introduced a bill authorizing construction of the vessel which the Senate and House both have rejected.

Appropriations: Congress received a plea from President Eisenhower to restore $144,404,000 in atomic energy funds to a $1,365,613,000 appropriations bill. The President said he signed the bill "with great reluctance" because it gave too little to the Atomic Energy Commission and too much for certain public works projects. Mr. Eisenhower said the reduced funds could "seriously interfere" with plans to produce atomic weapons and ship and plane reactors.

THE THREE BRIDGES ON THE CARRIER MILLS BLACK TOP ROAD are to be rebuilt and the job of removing the present narrow structures got underway in earnest Thursday afternoon. The job of tearing away the old structures and building new, wider bridges is being done by the R. W. Ford Construction Co., Marion. The largest of the three bridges is now being torn away. In top photo, left, Oneer Jackson of Cread Springs is cutting loose the steel beams supporting the bridge floor which were removed before the floor was knocked out. Top, right photo shows the one-ton steel ball, attached to 60-foot crane, that is used to knock out the bridge floor. Floyd Simmons of Simpson is the crane operator. In lower photo can be seen effects of the ton ball crashing into the bridge floor as chunks of concrete tumble to the ground. All of the steel in the bridge will be salvaged and taken to the state highway garage in Carbondale, it is said. The new bridge will not have the overhead steel work. ## OIL REPORT: Indicate Good Producer in Raleigh Township, 3 Miles from Other Wells

Taken from the Robertson
Tri-State Oil Report

A hot spot in the tri-state area is in Raleigh township, five miles north of Harrisburg and seven miles west of Eldorado.

It is at the P. L. Well No. 1, SW 1/4 SW NE, 20-8-66, about a mile west of the Harrisburg-Raleigh airport, where casing has been set by John Buchanan and C. E. O'Neal and Co. to test the Aux Vases sand at 2351-59.

A one-hour drill stem test at 2343-59 gassed to the surface in 15 minutes and recovered 125 feet of clean oil, 90 feet of gas cut muddy oil, with a good formation pressure of 1218 pounds.

This producer is three miles from other wells.

To the south, in Independence township, Surray, Mid-Continent had put the Ada Sisk No. 5, SW NE NE, 15-10-66, on pump to test the Cypress at 1971-2004 and it was pumping 48 barrels of oil per day.

Six New Producers
Also in Independence, drilling was at 1511 at Misener's Talbot Sy-

Coal Production Up in June

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois coal production for June totaled 9,973,718 tons, bringing the total for the first six months of the year to 21,996,407 tons. Mines and Minerals Director B. H. Schull reported today.

The June production was 230,484 tons over the June, 1954 total. The six-month total for 1955 was up 2,765,431 tons over the same six month period last year.

The month's total was the output of 78 working mines, compared to 93 mines in May, when production was 217,231 tons higher than in June, and 10,981 miners were employed last month.

Williamson county led the state production with 471,229 tons produced by 15 mines.

ers No. 1, SE 1/4 SW SE, 3-10-66, but no information was forthcoming.

Another "title" operation was Grady's A. Berkel No. 1, SE 1/4 SW SE, 27-9-76 (Cottage), where cable tools were awaited to test 32 feet of Tar Springs.

For the period ending July 13 there were 11 completions in Saline county. Six were producers, four were dry holes and one was listed as a gas well.

Producers were: Breuer-Robison's Mable Plumlee No. 1, 350 feet south and 410 feet west of NE SE, 16-8-76 (Eldorado), where initial production from the Waltersburg was 480 barrels per day on flow after fracture.

Richard W. Portis' Brown Communitized No. 1, 190 feet north and 290 feet east of SW SE NE, 16-8-76, where Waltersburg output was 260 barrels per day on pump.

W. C. McBride's Elsie Smith No. 4, NE 1/4 NW NE, 15-8-76, where a well was made in the Waltersburg with initial production 120 barrels per day on pump.

Four Abandoned
Inland-McBride's Clyde Koker No. 2, NW 1/4 SW SW, 11-8-76, an oil well in the Waltersburg with initial production 10 barrels of oil per day on flow on lots of gas.

McBride's Harry Flanders No. 8, SW SE SE, 10-8-76, an oil well in the Waltersburg with initial production 51 barrels per day on flow after fracture.

Superior's R. Glenn Thomas, 600 feet north and 400 feet east of SW NE, 25-8-66, making 40 barrels per day on pump from the Waltersburg.

Dry and abandoned were: Eakle and Holder's Andrew Turrentine No. 1, SW NE NW, 8-8-76; Max Lazich's S. H. Skelton Communitized No. 1, SE SE NW, 13-8-76; Floyd L. Runyon's Sahara Coal Co. Communitized No. 1-A, SW NE SE, 20-8-76; and John R. Coombs' Kenneth Berry No. 1, SW SE NE, 21-8-76.

Huntington Van Dresser's Harry Bramlet No. 1, NE SW SW, 19-8-76, was completed as a shut in gas well.

School Lunch Aid Included in Operating Fund

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. William G. Starnett Friday signed a bill to permit schools to use operating funds to conduct school lunch programs, and the new school lunch program for Illinois common schools was completed.

Earlier Friday, the governor vetoed a line appropriation from an omnibus measure which would have provided four million dollars in a separate fund for school lunches. Stratton said he would agree to the $200,000,000 distributive fund only if it included school lunch aid.

The new program will exclude private and parochial schools from state aid because these schools chose not to come under the provisions made for them.

Under the 1955-57 school lunch plan, school lunch money was included in the distributive fund which goes out to public schools. This appropriation, totaling $200,000,000, guarantees the state's share of a formula to give each school $200 per pupil per year for operating expenses.

There was another $900,000 included in this appropriation for private and parochial school lunch aid. But representatives of these groups, led by a Catholic spokesman, asked legislative committees to take the $900,000 earmarked for their schools out of the bill. They said they feared it would make the bill unconstitutional and might create resentment.

Thus the bill as passed means that schools eligible for distributive aid will get their school lunch money as an indistinguishable part of the aid, whether they have school lunches or not. If they do not, then the money can be used for operating purposes.

NATO Council Approves Big Three Strategy

Agree German
Reunification
No. One Objective

PARIS — The NATO Foreign Ministers Council unanimously approved today the Western Big Three's strategy for the Geneva summit conference with the Russians.

The NATO ministers agreed that German reunification should be the No. 1 objective in the effort to end the Cold War in Europe.

The action by the North Atlantic Treaty representatives threw the full weight of the Western alliance behind the strategy of U. S., British and French leaders at the Big Four talks.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay asked NATO endorsement in outlining the West's plans for the summit talks. They promised to keep their allies closely informed of the Geneva parley's progress.

NATO approval of the Big Three program was the last weapon placed in the West's arsenal for the Big Four discussions. If all goes well, informed sources said, the United States, Britain and France will give NATO a part in helping work out European security arrangements.

Dulles, MacMillan and Pinay planned to head for Geneva in time to meet their respective heads of government and prepare for Monday's talks.

The main points of the Western proposal to end the cold war were these:

1. A detailed plan for the reunification of Germany based on free elections and similar to the deal worked out last year by Britain's Sir Anthony Eden.

2. European security arrangements to form the framework for German unification. There are as yet no detailed plans in this field. But the West will suggest such things as an East European buffer zone and the limitation of a unified Germany's armed forces to 12 divisions to ease Russia's legitimate fears.

3. A new attempt to work out a world-wide disarmament scheme within the United Nations, in addition to scaling down and controlling European forces.

Mrs. C. L. Martin Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Ada Jane Martin, 82, died today at 8:15 in the Eldorado Nursing Home. She had been bed-ridden for the past two years. She was the widow of the late Charles L. Martin who died in March of 1954.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Palmer Reeder, Eldorado; Mrs. Lovell Lemons, Raleigh; N. C. Leonard Martin, Evansville, Ind.; Lewis E. Martin, Lynchburg, Va.; Bernis Martin, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Opal Rogers, Eldorado; Mrs. Charles Bixler, Owensboro, Ky.; Mrs. Harold Ingram, Eldorado; 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Two children preceded her in death.

She was a member of the Wolf Creek Primitive Baptist church where funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. Elder T. Leo Dodd will conduct the ceremony and burial will be in the Masonic cemetery at Raleigh.

The body lies in state at the Eldorado funeral home.

McKee to Teach At Centralia

James McKee, mathematics instructor and assistant athletic coach at Harrisburg Township high school the past five years, has resigned to teach at Centralia high school.

McKee will be returning to his home town, where he was graduated from high school.

Here he was one of the most popular instructors. He also served as coach of the Bull Pup football team and as freshman basketball coach.

At Centralia he will teach mathematics but will not coach. He is still recuperating from injuries received in a crash this spring.

Two Eldorado Persons Held In County Jail

Two Eldorado persons are held today in the county jail in connection with a theft at Eldorado and a break-in at Harrisburg.

The sheriff's office announced that Louis Hayes and Donald King are being held and that Hayes has admitted his part in the theft of items at the Ande salvage yard at Eldorado and a break-in Thursday night at the Webb service station, Routes 45 and 145 south of Harrisburg.

King, officers said, denies the acts.

More City School State Aid, Less For High School; Higher Local HS Rate

The new Illinois school aid bill, signed Thursday by Governor Stratton, will help the Harrisburg City schools and hurt the Harrisburg High school as far as state aid is concerned.

However, the bill allows the High school to raise its local tax rate from 50 to 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The City school rate is already 85 cents by permission of voters. Two attempts to increase the High school rate were voted down locally.

Under the new law the per capita payment for average daily attendance is $200 per pupil as against the old rate of $172. However, the payment does not begin until the districts have levied 50 cents per $100 valuation while previously only 40 cents would make the district eligible.

Based on the High school district assessed valuation the school will lose $26,000 "at the bottom" and gain $22,000 due to the per capita increase, for a net loss of $4,000. The 65 cent tax levy will bring in an additional $39,000, making the net gain $35,000—all out of local taxpayers' pockets.

The City schools will lose $18,000 by the qualification bracket and will gain $38,000 by the increased per capita payment for a net gain of $20,000.

These figures are all approximate.

The High school, for the year just ended June 30, had a deficit of $41,000, has lost some teachers because the school's salary schedule is lower than paid elsewhere, and has been forced to curtail some educational activities. Added income under the new local levy will permit a slight increase in the operating budget, but will not overcome the deficit.

The City schools also had a deficit at the end of the June 30 year—about $20,000, but this was anticipated when the budget was drawn for the 1954-55 school year, and the local tax levy made last September, on which collections are now being made, will remove most of the deficit during the year which began July 1.

Due to the smaller assessed value of the City schools district and a higher enrollment, the City schools have always shared more state funds. Last year the state paid approximately $185,000 of the City schools operating expenses—more than local taxpayers paid for educational purposes, but not as much as the total local tax levy, including building expenses and bond retirement.

Chicago Convention Hall Bill Faces Court Test by 3 Downstate Fairs

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois' classic legislative filibuster method today appeared headed for a court test in a suit filed by three downstate agricultural fairs to challenge a bill to give Chicago a $4 million dollar convention hall.

The suit was filed Friday in Sangamon County Circuit Court by the Sangamon County Fair and Agricultural Assn., its president, Robert Pfeffer; Morgan County Agricultural Fair Assn., Earl Hembrough, president; and Cass County Fair Assn., Woods M. Crum, president.

The suit charged the convention hall bill, one of a series, was unconstitutional both in its terms and language and because of the House procedure in passing it.

Passage of the bill and its companion measures set off the longest filibuster in Illinois House memory in June. Rep. John K. Morris (D-Chadwick) and a group of downstate legislators sought to block the bills by demanding that all bills, as provided in the constitution, be read in full, instead of by title only, as is the custom.

The complainants in the suit charge House Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) with failing to heed Morris' request that the contested bill be read in full.

The suit charges the bill was read by title only and backs its point with a journalized protest filed by Morris and four supporters.

The suit asked the court to enjoin permanently the state director of agriculture, the state auditor and state treasurer from carrying out provisions of the bill, which has already been signed into law.

Hearing on petition for leave to file the complaint was set for July 22, at 2 p. m. CDT.

The convention hall bills are designed to channel the lion's share of the state fair and exposition fund, created from parimutuel horse race betting taxes, to the Cook County Metropolitan Fair and Exposition Authority.

Downstate fairs, which have been drawing from both this fund and the agricultural premium fund, would be limited to one or the other. If a county had more than one fair, both would have to draw the same fund.

Pilot Jack Taylor of Seattle said he had to crash land the two-engine DC3 after a sudden wind shift caused it to dip badly as he approached the Seattle airport for a landing. He made the landing about a half-mile from the airport.

The plane stopped only 30 feet from a clump of trees.

Al Josephson, of Norfolk, Va., another passenger, said "I thought we were going when I saw those trees ahead."

Airline officials said the wing section apparently was torn off when the plane hit a power pole on the edge of the pasture.

Murrow said it was his first crash landing in a civilian plane, although he said he had made such landings in military planes.

Price Asks Negotiations
For Clerks' Contract

Guy Price, business agent and financial secretary of Local Union 896, Retail Clerks International association today announced that notices had been sent out to merchants saying that contract negotiations will be opened. The present contract expires Sept. 30.

Price said that the notices suggest that a meeting be held Aug. 15.

He also said that only full time employees are eligible for a half day off for the county fair under the present contract.

U. S. Rubber Firm Signs Contract

NEW YORK — The United States Rubber Company and the CIO United Rubber Workers union Friday night signed a new five-year contract increasing pension and other fringe benefits for 33,000 employees in 19 plants across the country.

Under the new contract, employees will be eligible for pension after 15 years of service instead of 20 years.

Expresses Hope Geneva Talks Will Lead to Peace

Soviet Official
Among Diplomats to See President Off

KEFLAVIK, Iceland (AP)—President Eisenhower, en route to the Big Four meeting in Geneva, today told the people of Iceland that he hoped his meeting with the Russians would advance the cause of peace for "all the world."

Mr. Eisenhower expressed his hope in a brief speech made at Keflavik Airport shortly after he arrived aboard the Presidential plane, the four-engine Columbine III.

The President and his party stayed about two hours in Iceland and then took off on the last leg of the flight to Geneva.

He was greeted by a host of officials headed by the Icelandic president and more than 1,000 spectators.

Mr. Eisenhower, who said before he left Washington that the Big Four Summit conference could be the world's "greatest step toward peace," inspected an honor guard and then walked together with Icelandic President Asgeirsson to a public address system to exchange greetings.

The American President, heavily tanned and wearing a light gray suit, told the Icelandic president he had embarked on a "search for peace."

"I shall hope (in Geneva) that the cause of peace can be advanced for all the world," Mr. Eisenhower said.

Following his welcome on the rain-washed runway of the U. S. Air Force base portion of Iceland's International Airport, Mr. Eisenhower and his party were President Asgeirsson's guests at a lunch in the Officers Club.

President Addresses Nation

Minutes before his departure from Washington Friday night at 9:18 p. m. EDT, the President told the nation in a radio and television broadcast of his hopes for the Geneva meeting. He said he was going to "extend the hand of friendship" to Russia provided the Soviet Union "honestly" joins in a search for a "new road" to world peace.

He promised that he and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "shall do our best" with others there to start the world on the beginning of a new road, a road that may be long and difficult, but which, if faithfully followed, will lead us all into a better and fuller life.

Mr. Eisenhower said he hoped to find at the Geneva meeting "one ingredient that has been missing" from previous such conferences—"an honest intent to negotiate, to understand, to be tolerant, to try to see the other fellow's viewpoint as well as we see our own."

He said if such conditions exist, the Geneva meeting can be the "greatest step toward peace, toward future prosperity and tranquility that has ever been taken in all the history of mankind."

The President also responded warmly in his address to a pledge made by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin at a Moscow press conference Friday to seek at Geneva a "common language" to end East-West tensions.

To All The World

Mr. Eisenhower replied "to all the world" that "if the words that he (Bulganin) expressed are as truly reflective of the hearts and minds of the men in the Kremlin as we are sure they are reflective of the hearts and minds of all the people in Russia... then there will be no trouble between the Russian delegation and our own."

After his address, the President was obviously pleased—and surprised—to find Soviet Embassy official Sergei R. Striganov in the lineup of diplomats at Washington's airport to see him off for Geneva. Striganov is the top Russian assigned to Washington in the absence of Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin who is attending the Geneva meeting.

Veteran Washington observers could not remember a top Russian making a similar gesture since the cold war started.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK, 1955

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS accidents kill more than 14,000 and injure more than one million farm residents each year; and WHEREAS human failure is associated with nearly all these deaths and disabling injuries; and WHEREAS the occupational death rate of the nearly seven million farm workers in the United States is the third highest among the rates reported for all types of industry in this country; and WHEREAS every farm worker can aid in reducing the toll of deaths and injuries by constantly bearing in mind the slogan, YOUR SAFETY IS IN YOUR HANDS:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the people of the Nation to observe the week beginning July 24, 1955, as National Farm Safety Week, and I urgently request all farm workers to make safety inventories of their homes, farms, machinery, and equipment, and to cultivate careful work habits and attitudes. I also request all persons and organizations interested in farm life and welfare to join in a campaign to reduce the tragedies and losses caused by needless accidents.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 17th day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-ninth.

By the President:

Acting Secretary of State

University of Illinois Experiment Station

work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in Southern Illinois, prepared by the

Roll Along!

Winter corn combining is rolling along, but yields are averaging 10 to 20 bushels below last year. Average yield to date is 51 bushels an acre. However, alfalfa, red clover, Ladino and lespedeza seedings are in rare contrast to last year.
Some alfalfa is so rank that it is almost as troublesome as sweet clover in the combining operations.

Canning Season Temporarily Over

Robert Boaz and Gene Wise, official canners of grass and legume silage, this week are filling the fourth silo with succulent green roughage for next winter. Actually they filled an extra silo because the prolonged rainy weather made it difficult to make hay. Hay baling is going ahead full steam now that the weather is cooperating.

Soybeans in Corn

Soybeans were broadcast last week in corn at lay-by time. The idea is that lambs will graze on them and the lower leaves of the corn, giving us some fat lambs this fall. One bushel of beans an acre was broadcast with an electric seeder mounted on the cultivator.

Have You Considered Sorghum?

There's some possibility that you can still use sorghum where your corn was drowned or choked out by weeds and grass during the rainy weather when cultivation was impossible. If you need silage, remember that forage sorghum will produce up to 16 tons of green matter an acre. It is a fairly good substitute for corn silage for roughing beef animals through when the feeding period is not long enough for vitamin A deficiency to occur.

Falls Cause Many Injuries on Farm

If you fail to keep your ladders and other climbing equipment in good repair, you are heading for a fall, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Falls are the principal cause of injuries occurring on the farm and in the home. Inspect your ladders frequently for rusted or loose bolts or nails, cracks or rotten or loose rungs and supports.
Repair immediately, or get a new ladder. That's cheaper than an accident.

Here are some precautions for the safe use of ladders, according to the Illinois Rural Safety Council:

1. Set the foot of the ladder firmly one-fourth of the ladder's height from the wall.
2. Always face a ladder when going up or down, hold on with both hands and don't hurry.
3. Set the ladder where you can reach the object easily from center of ladder.
4. Clean mud or grease from your hands and shoes before you start to climb.
5. Use a hand line to hoist tools or materials that you can't carry safely in your pockets.
6. Don't climb or work on a ladder in a high wind.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Raising chickens for a laying flock takes some managing in this day of efficiency. Today there are more exacting ways of finding out if the flock is producing a profit than there once was. It costs more to keep a hen, too. The cost of her feed has been going up along with the general cost of living, but the results of her labor do not always keep on a comparable price level, so the business is a precarious one.

The time has long since arrived for the farmer to decide whether he is keeping a flock of laying hens for the money he expects to make or just for the fun of having chickens around the place. There is a difference. It brings up such things as culling the flock, starting chicks early, having the right size flock, housing, feeding, and sanitation.

Undoubtedly there still are many farms where the farm family is unwittingly paying a high price for the eggs they gather from their little flock of hens. Of course, in the spring and early summer, the always are several dozen left each week. These eggs the farmer's wife has the pleasure of taking to market. If the price of eggs isn't too low, she may have a couple of dollars left for spending money after she has purchased the few staple groceries needed to supplement the garden produce.

The feeding cost isn't counted.
In spring, summer and fall the hens largely scratch out their own living. They eat tender green grass and other plants, wander about consuming grasshoppers and other obnoxious insects, and helping themselves to the nearest ripening grain crop in the field. Of course, the fare is supplemented morning and evening with a bucket of grain.

In other days when binders and threshing machines were in vogue
the housewife could always walk over to the nearest grain field and drag a bundle of wheat or oats to the poultry yard for the convenience of the flock. If she didn't the hens went to the field and helped themselves. After threshing time, of course, there were enough grain screenings to keep the poultry fed for several weeks.

Raising a new flock of chickens
was turned over to the hens, too.
Broody hens received a "setting" of eggs, hatched them, and then had the pleasant chore of rearing
the little chicks.

That sort of poultry production is out of the picture in this day of efficiency experts, farm management, and to keep the farm ends meet. The flocks are considered a business enterprise on the progressive, well-operated farm. The farmer must consider the cost of everything carefully. The hens are machines instead of the object of sentimentality. They must be able to produce a specified number of eggs per year and lay them at the right time or they are no good.

They are pampered with well-balanced feeds. They live in ventilated, sanitary laying houses so that they will not consume energy wandering over the farm or pick up deadly disease germs. They have their working day regulated, and find themselves being showed off to market when the laying season has ended. Then a new flock of pullets can take over.

That is the prescription that has been found to work in making the poultry flock pay its way in the farm business today. If the farmer is to stay in business he cannot keep an enterprise going which is constantly losing money.

4-H Club News

The Carrier Mills 4-H Sewing club met recently at the home of Katherine Matthews.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Katherine Matthews, and roll call answered. A "trick" by Mona Parks proved that she "can stand on her own two feet." The leader Pete Holmes gave instructions to the girls on their garments.

Those present were Sue Hutson,
Margene Miller, Joyce Absher,
Linda Murphy, Mona Parks, Judy
Harris, Katherine Matthews, Judy
Farthing, Pete Holmes, and Mrs.
Hillis Matthews, a guest.

Cows will make the best use of summer pasture if you will limit them to a small acreage and move them to fresh feed every day, says
a University of Illinois dairy specialist.

Plenty of good pasture will help to cut the cost of milk production.

4-Hers Eliminate "Accident Havens"

How many hazards can you find?

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

As a part of their 4-H Club work, members in all 48 states are correcting hazards such as those seen in the above drawing. They are attempting to reduce the Nation's annual farm toll of 14,500 lives, 1,250,000 injuries, and an economic loss of about a billion dollars.

4-Hers, working as individuals or in groups through their local clubs, conduct surveys to locate hazards,
then correct the unsafe conditions.
They give demonstrations on hundreds of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety. Members present talks before group meetings and over radio and television; put displays in store windows; and build booths at fairs.

Farm Production Outlook for Illinois Bright

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The State
Federal Crop Reporting Service said today production outlook for all Illinois field crops is "exceptionally bright."

The corn crop is expected to be the third largest on record, the service said, and the prospective yields per acre for wheat and oats
"have never been exceeded."

Hay production and yield per acre are both expected to top all previous years, and acreage planted to soybeans has never been larger.

A corn crop of 519 million bushels is indicated, the service said, compared with 449 million bushels
last year and a 10-year average of 462 million bushels.

Only the 1949 and 1952 corn crops exceeded this year's production outlook.
Cool nights have retarded corn growth somewhat, but the crop is in "excellent condition generally,"
the service said.

The wheat crop is expected to total 44.6 million bushels, 1 percent less than last year but 32 percent above the 10-year average.

A prospective yield per acre of 30 bushels would exceed last year's record yield by one bushel.
The prospective oats crop is 153

Suzan Ball Reported Slightly Improved

HOLLYWOOD — Cancer-stricken actress Suzan Ball was reported "slightly improved" today at City of Hope Sanitarium but specialists withheld any announcement on her chances of recovery.

The 22-year-old actress, whose right leg was amputated a year and a half ago because of the disease, continued to "rest comfortably," a spokesman said at the non-sectarian institution 20 miles from Hollywood.

OUT OUR WAY

2,000 Detonators Stolen, Blast Kills 9-Year-Old Boy

PORTLAND, Mich. — Authorities conducted a life-and-death search today for 2,000 stolen detonators following explosions which killed a 9-year-old boy and critically injured his playmate.

The tiny detonators, about the size of lead pencil erasers, were reported missing Friday night by officials of the Barley-Earhart Co. after Keith Jones was literally blown to bits while carting off a case containing 50 of them.

A 10-year-old playmate, William Gorman of Alma, Mich., was reported in "very critical" condition today after the detonators exploded less than a block from the business district. A spokesman at St. Lawrence Hospital in Lansing, Mich., said both of his legs were torn off and he was given only a 50-50 chance for survival.

Police feared other youngsters may have hidden the caps and urged all children in this and surrounding communities to give police any information about the explosives.

Harrisburg Hospital Admitted: Mrs. Lela Tolbert, RFD 2, Carrier Mills. Marion Parks, RFD 2, Marion.

HA-HA FOR ZSA ZSA—When screen actress Zsa Zsa Gabor recently threw a dinner in Hollywood for the men she considers the film capital's 10 most available bachelors, millionaire businessman Hal Hayes, right, sat next to her, "cutting in" on architect John Lindsay who was dating her for the evening. Lindsay, however, came prepared for the emergency, wielding a nasty-looking toy six-shooter which he used to warn others that for that night, at least, Miss Double Z was HIS date.

Top Military Men Say U. S. Still Has Air Superiority

QUANTICO, Va. — Top military men gravely warned of Russia's rapid strides in developing long-range jet bombers, missiles and other weapons today but asserted the United States still has superiority.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the annual conference of defense leaders here that from now on there will be increasing difficulty "in maintaining a technical superiority in weapons."

He said both America and Russia now are reaching "into the fringe areas where there are new unknowns," such as the space above us, the high speeds of aircraft, atomic energy, guided missiles, all these and more besides.

Neither Radford nor Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, exhibited much of the alarm about Russia that has recently been heard in Congress and elsewhere, but they concluded the country is "in no position to be complacent." Carefully selected excerpts from their top secret remarks were made available to reporters.

Separated Twin Girl Seems Normal After Operation

CHICAGO — Eight-month-old Deborah Marie Andrews, a separated Siamese twin, was home from Mercy Hospital today and doctors said she appeared normal. Her twin, Christine Mary, will be released "in the near future," a hospital spokesman said.

The twins, separated in a history-making operation last April 21, were born last Oct. 1 to Mr. and Mrs. W. Fred Andrews of Chicago. It was the first time in medical history that head-joined twins survived after being separated surgically.

In a similar case, Rodney Dee and Roger Lee Brodie were separated here Dec. 17, 1953, but Roger died later.

Dr. Harold Voris, a neurosurgeon, said both of the Andrews twins were given skin grafts to cover their skull defects. But he said the graft on Christine, the smaller of the twins, was not "a complete take," and another skin graft had to be made.

No attempt would be made, he said, to close the opening in the skull of either twin until they reach school age.

Runaway Boy Rides Air Liner To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A "Huckleberry Finn type" boy baffled authorities today with his explanations of why he stowed away aboard a Trans World Airlines plane and rode from St. Louis, Mo., to Los Angeles.

The skinny 12-year-old boy was clad only in a pair of tattered blue jeans Friday night when he arrived at International Airport. He identified himself as William Davis, of Berkeley, Mo.

"This is Los Angeles?" he asked as he stepped off the plane.

The boy puzzled the airline, police and juvenile authorities with "about half a dozen different stories," spokesmen said. He once said he "just decided to take a ride."

William, who said it was the first time he had run away from home, at first told police his mother put him aboard the plane in St. Louis and he would be met by an aunt here. Later, he said he had no friends or relatives in Southern California.

"I was standing out in front of my home," he explained, "sort of half-thumbing a ride and a couple of guys picked me up and asked where I wanted to go. I said I wanted to go to the (St. Louis) Airport."

When I got there I decided to go for a ride and just walked with a whole bunch of people," he said.

When fellow passengers noted he wore only a pair of jeans torn at the knees, he said he had a Davy Crockett shirt, "but I left that at home."

A hostess asked for his ticket shortly after the Constellation, flying non-stop on the run, took off. "I just told her, 'I ain't got none,'" the barefooted boy said.

Pilot Leroy Watts radioed the TWA office in Kansas City that he had the young stowaway aboard. The airline contacted its St. Louis office, which in turn notified police.

Los Angeles juvenile officers said William would be detained in Juvenile Hall until arrangements are completed to return him to his home.

Scherrer Announces International Harvester Sweepstakes Contest

Scherrer Equipment Co., International Harvester dealers in Eldorado and Ridgway, announce the International Harvester $200,000 Sweepstakes contest, which is now taking place all over the nation, with 500 first prize awards to be won.

The Sweepstakes will be held in two sections, the first ending Aug. 15, 1955, and the second ending Sept. 15, 1955. Winners whose entry blanks are drawn from the sweepstakes entries will receive their choice of any of four I-H home appliances: A chest-type freezer, an upright freezer, a 12-foot decorator refrigerator, or an All-Seasons air conditioner.

Casino Refuses to Rehire Wally Cox, Says Act Too Old

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Wally Cox showed up Friday night at a gambling casino which had fired him and offered to put on his act but the management substituted "The Four Tunes," a musical novelty team.

The act that caused Cox's discharge from the $44,000 engagement was the one which started him in show business several years ago. That was the reason the Dunes Hotel fired him. The management said it was too old and more suitable for a Bible society than a gambling casino's nightclub.

Declare Martial Law In Riot-Torn Casablanca

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — France declared martial law in riot-torn Casablanca today.

Resident General Gilbert Grandval ordered martial law instituted "in full force" in the wake of race rioting and other violence that has killed at least 19 persons and wounded 80 others since Thursday night.

The order was issued almost simultaneously with a new demonstration by angry Europeans.

Freed by Sherman — Matt Carter, former slave, is 103 years old, but his memory is still vivid enough for him to describe the Civil War days when he was freed by Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman during the Union leader's march to the sea. The Columbus, Ohio, centenarian lived on a plantation near Phenix City, Ala., when he was the property of a doctor named Ingersaw, who bought him for $500.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son and daughter-in-law A/C James E. Fleming and Phyllis Fleming, who met death July 17, 1954. Little we knew with dawn that morn.

The sorrow it would bring. The blow was hard, the shock severe. We little thought the end was near.

If all the world were ours to give, We would give it, yes, and more; To see your smiling faces again. Come shining through the door. Sometimes it is hard to understand Why some things have to be. But in His wisdom God had planned Beyond our power to see. God gave us strength to bear it. And courage to meet the blow. But what it meant to lose you. This world will never know. The beautiful things you did for us. Live in our hearts each day. And keep you near and dear to us. Though you have passed away. Sadly missed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Fleming and sisters and brothers. *16-1

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear brother-in-law and sister, Jimmie and Phyllis Fleming, who passed away one year ago July 17. Dearest Phyllis and Jimmie, How we have missed you. Since from earth you passed away. Sad our hearts, but sweet the memory.

As we think of you today. We who have known and loved you. And whose parting brought sad tears. Will cherish your memory always. To brighten the drifting years. In our hearts is a lonely spot Your bright faces used to fill— But nothing can take your memory That shines there and always will. Your memory to us is a keepsake. With which we will never part. Though God has you in His keeping. We'll always have you in our hearts. Sadly missed by mother, sisters and brothers. *16-1

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Hubert Moore who passed away July 17, 1955. We miss him so terribly and sometimes feel. We are dreaming it all; that it cannot be real. But could he return I could hear him say. Don't grieve my loved ones, it's better this way. I'm happier here and it's such a relief. To be free of pain and feel no grief. So keep your faith and always pray That we'll all be together again someday. Sadly missed by all who loved him. His wife and children. His mother and brothers and sisters. *16-1

Dressen Heads for Worst Season as Senators Skid; Newcombe Ties Record

By United Press
Chuck Dressen is headed for the worst showing of his managerial career all because, according to his off-whipped Washington players, he still thinks he is piloting Brooklyn.

The slumping Senators, who threatened to do so for some time, finally fell into the American league cellar Friday by losing to the White Sox, 5-4, when pinch hitter Bob Kennedy tripled home two runs in the ninth inning. It was Washington's ninth setback in the last 10 games and 20th loss in 35 contests.

At their current rate of only 27 victories and 57 losses, the Senators stand to lose 165 games this season, surpassing even the 98 defeats suffered by the eighth-place Cincinnati club Dressen managed in 1937.

The bulk of Washington's troubles, say several of the Senators, is that Dressen often mistakes them for the tremendously talented Dodgers he managed in 1951-52-53. He expects his current Washington crew to hit-and-run the way the Dodgers did. He expects the Senator hurlers to pitch the way the Brooklyn staff did, and he expects his second-divisions to execute such plays as the pickoff and outfield-to-infield relay as smartly as his Brooklyn clubs used to do.

"We Ain't the Dodgers!"
Long accustomed to seeing plays made correctly, Dressen often finds himself saying, "The Dodgers would have made that play with no trouble at all."

"There's only one hitch," one sad Senator player admitted. "We ain't the Dodgers."

While Washington was hitting the skids, Baltimore kept moving upward, a half game ahead of the Senators, by beating Kansas City, 8-5, with a seven-run rally in the sixth inning. Until the sixth, southpaw Bobby Shantz had blanked the Orioles but they rapped him for four runs and added three more in the same frame off his successor, Tom Gorman. Jim McDonald was the winner although he was removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth.

The Yankees stretched their lead to five games again by beating the Indians, 4-3, in 10 innings. Held scoreless by Early Wynn until the ninth, the New Yorkers tied the score on Eddie Robinson's three-run homer in that frame, then won in the 10th on Jerry Noren's homer. Al Rosen homered for Cleveland, the fourth Yankee hurler, was credited with his sixth victory.

Rain caused postponement of the scheduled game between the Red Sox and Tigers.

Murry Dickson of the Phillies pitched a three-hitter in stopping the surging Braves, 1-0, for his sixth victory and third shutout. The Phils scored the only run of the game off Walk Burdette in the eighth on a walk to Willie Jones and Marv Blaylock's second triple of the contest.

Newcombe Wins 15th
Big Don Newcombe posted his 15th triumph against only one defeat by pitching and batting the Dodgers to a 12-3 victory over the Cardinals. In addition to hurling an eight-hitter, Newcombe tied a National league record for pitchers by hitting his sixth home run during a six-run spurge in the eighth. He also had a double and two singles to bring his batting average to .406. Roy Campanella and Rip Repulski also homered.

Jim Hearn settled down after a shaky first inning to pitch the Giants to a 5-3 victory over the Cubs. The Giants, who settled the outcome with four runs off Sam Jones in the bottom of the first inning, moved into third place with a record of 10 victories in the last 12 games.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall smashed a three-run homer as he led the Redlegs to a 9-1 decision over the

For the second straight Sunday, the Harrisburg Legion will travel to Kentucky for a ball game. This time they will be the guests of the strong Uniontown, Ky., Merchants, whom they have beaten in a previous game this season.

Pirates. The 90-degree temperature finally weakened Nuxhall, however, and he was relieved by Hershel Freeman in the seventh. Vern Law was the loser.

RECOVERING — Medics appear to have Loretta Young's puzzling illness licked. The former movie star, now a TV headliner, still remains in the hospital, however. She is not expected to be released for another three or four weeks.

Turnesa Breaks Course Record in Miller Open

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Jim Turnesa said he wasn't playing as good on the second round, but he broke the course record and took a 10-under-par 130 into the final half of the $35,000 Miller Open today.

Turnesa fashioned a blazing 63 Friday to oust Cary Middlecoff from the lead by one point. Mike Souchak, playing in Turnesa's three-some, finished one stroke behind at 132.

The sizzling Turnesa, sixth of seven famous golfing brothers, showed the gallery of some 12,000 he still had a lot of golf in his stubby, 5-foot-6 frame despite his 42 years. He birdied seven holes with putts including 18, 15, 15, and 22 feet.

But Turnesa, of Briarcliff, N. Y., wasn't satisfied with the round. "I played better in the opening round," he said. "I missed several shots and two or three putts for birdies."

Middlecoff, the former Memphis, Tenn., dentist playing out of Kismesha Lake, N. Y., added a 67 to his record-tying first round of 64. The Master's champion said he, too, thought he played better on his higher round.

National Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, picked up for home even before he learned his 72-73-145 was not good enough to qualify. He became the second straight National Open titlist to lose out in his first tournament bid after winning the big one. Ed Furgol did it last year.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON
Two members of this spring's HTHS baseball team, Jimmy Cummins, a shortstop, and Ray Hassett, a catcher, returned the first of this week from a three-weeks' baseball camp in Missouri.

The camp, known as the Ozark Baseball camp, is located on the banks of the Current river, near Salem, Mo., and is directed by Carl E. Bolin, who had a short tour in the big leagues and is a scout for the Cincinnati Reds. However, the camp isn't run by the professional club, and no boy still in high school is open to negotiations by big league representatives.

Assisting Bolin were Goldie Howard, who played lots of ball in the AAA leagues and a former college standout player by the name of Kelly.

Cummins states it is a wonderful camp for young baseball players, with each player getting plenty of attention in the fundamentals of the game in general and also for the position in which he is particularly interested.

Conditioning came in for lots of attention. The boys were up at 6:15 a. m. and went for a three mile hike. Then came a rest period, a shower and then breakfast. Fundamentals of the game were practiced during the morning and regular games played in the afternoon. There were 98 boys in camp, divided into three age groups—freshmen from 10 to 12, intermediates from 12 to 15 and seniors from 15 to 18.

"Sure taught us a lot of the finer points about baseball," was Cummins comment.

Southern Illinois university has mailed out its 1955 football schedule and ticket information. SIU will play five games at home and season tickets may be purchased for $5. The season opens Sept. 17 at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

First home game is Oct. 1, at 8 p. m., with Michigan Central the opponent. Oct. 15 Eastern Illinois calls at SIU, also for an 8 p. m. contest. The other three home games start at 1:30 in the afternoon — Washington University of St. Louis Nov. 5, Northern Illinois Nov. 19 and Bradley University Nov. 24.

From the University of Illinois comes this info — Among Illinois grid candidates, whose summer jobs provide muscle-building potential are center Terry Mathews, iron worker; tackle George Brokemond, steel worker; end Bill Harkatovich, sheet metal worker. Several other members of the Illini are working during the summer on construction jobs.

Add muscle building, this time closer to home—Bill Putnam, line-backer and line-backer with the Eldorado Eagles, has been keeping in shape for the first grid call by Eagle Coach Al Adams by wrestling with 100-pound bales in the hay fields.

Stars to Play Henderson Here

The Harrisburg Stars will entertain the Henderson, Ky., Merchants Sunday at the town park diamond, with the baseball game slated for 2 p. m.

The Stars are still trying to pick up their sixth win of the season. They have lost six times. Wednesday night at Mt. Vernon, Ind., the local team lost an under-the-lights ball game.

Henderson comes to Harrisburg with a record of six victories in ten starts.

Don Wallace will do the pitching for the Stars with either Bledig or Cowger catching. Others expecting to see action are Shewmake, Zeigler, Sisly, Smith, K. Nolen, Harrison, J. Nolen and Raub.

All players are asked to report to the diamond at 12:30 Sunday afternoon for pregame practice.

Proposed Mercy Group
Henri Dunant, a Swiss, proposed an international mercy organization in 1862. His proposal led to the Geneva Conference of 1864, at which the Red Cross was started.

Jackie Robinson, Injured, Denies He Will Retire

STAMFORD, Conn. — Jackie Robinson propped his ailing left knee on a cushion at his home today and vigorously denied he is all through with baseball although admitting he has no idea how long it will take before he is able to return to the Brooklyn Dodgers' lineup.

"There's no use kidding myself," said Robinson, looking down at his puffed up knee, "the pain is there and naturally I'm concerned. But I definitely don't feel this is the end of the road for me."

Reports that the 36-year-old Robinson would announce his retirement cropped up immediately after he swung at a pitch during batting practice Friday, fell to the ground in pain and had to be assisted from the field.

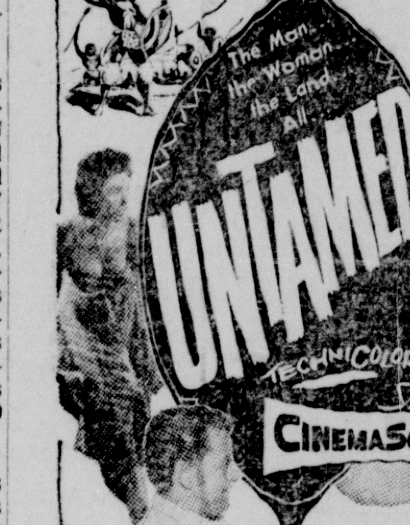

The injury occurred shortly after the Dodgers announced they were bringing up right-handed pitchers Don Bessent and Roger Craig from their farm system and sending pitcher Jim Hughes and outfielder Bob Borkowski to St. Paul of the American Association.

"No one seems to have any idea how long I'll be on the sidelines," Robinson said, "and frankly I don't know how long I'll be out myself. I think this whole thing came about because I tried to get back into the lineup too soon. I was anxious to play and help the club."

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

Have enough gas for where you're going, Mister? Well, little matter. You can always get more at some service station.

The same goes if unexpected guests drop in at home. You can buy bread, meat, or eggs at a nearby store ... or you can borrow from a neighbor.

But this is not possible when a serious emergency strikes. You have to be prepared beforehand. You can't buy strength of spirit. Nor can you borrow it. It grows within you, little at a time.

So be prepared when disappointment discouragement, trouble, or grief strike.

Through worship at Church fortify yourself with faith and courage. Get acquainted with God's love and wisdom.

Come what may, you'll be ready for any emergency.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Ezekiel and Captivity'

II Kings 24:11-15; Ezekiel 1:2-3; 3:11

GOLDEN TEXT: "Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin."

INTRODUCTION — God delivers his messages to people today in the same manner that He did centuries ago. First God impresses His message upon the heart and mind of the minister. The minister must receive and believe the message. Then, no matter what the message, he is under obligation to God to deliver the message to the people. This is the age old process. Sometimes it makes God's man popular with the people. Often it makes him unpopular. Popular or unpopular, it remains for the messenger to be faithful to God who called him into the ministry. God rewards according to faithfulness; not according to popularity.

Ezekiel came upon the scene when the people were downhearted and defeated. We think of George Washington at Valley Forge. He did not give up, but instead he prayed, trusted God and encouraged his men.

I JERUSALEM CAPTURED AND DEPORTED (II Kings 24:1-16)

The people had been kidding themselves for years, just like United States citizens are doing today, by saying, "It can't happen here." God's prophets had been sounding the warning all through the years that unless the people repented and turned from their wicked ways, destruction was sure to come. It came!

My! what a tragic picture. Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, sacked the city. His army utterly destroyed the walls, buildings and even the Temple. The vessels and treasures were carried off to Babylon. To add insult to injury, the people, including the king and princes, were taken back to Babylon and made slaves. It had happened!
